

Robert Giesler

Robert Giesler is the vice president and corporate executive agent for the Cyber PMO. Giesler is responsible for developing corporate-wide strategies, programs, and investments in all facets of the cyber domain. Prior to coming to SAIC, Giesler was a member of the Senior Executive Service and served as the director, Information Operations and Strategic Studies in the Office of the Secretary of Defense. He is a retired Army officer, having entered the Army in 1972. His Army career included tours in the infantry, as an Army counter intelligence agent, an intelligence operations officer, and a variety of military operational assignments.

Giesler's contributions to the information operations (IO) and cyber operations fields began in 1980 with development and management of unique capabilities directed against strategic targets; participation in the first Information Warfare Net Assessment panel in 1995; and continuous participation in Joint IO Campaign Plans as either a planner or capabilities provider between 1990 and 2007. Giesler is a graduate of the University of Maryland and the Defense Intelligence College Post-graduate Intelligence Program. Among his awards are: the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Civilian Service Medal, the Meritorious Civilian Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal, and the Army Commendation Medal.